Reasons to sponsor a CEE event

With hundreds of delegates from across our network attending our events every year, it gives stakeholders direct access to the community energy sector; including community groups, funders, local authorities, campaign groups and developers.

High profile branding opportunities before, during and after the event and an opportunity to raise awareness of products and services to a trusted organisation that helps everyone in the energy sector.

Opportunities to deliver your sustainability message and demonstrate how you are a key player and supporter of the community energy sector

Build trust in your brand and services and give confidence to organisations within the community energy sector you wish to approach. Increase traction and engagement through your own social media activity.
